When the page loads, the dropdown box isn't selected, and I would like to have the page focus on the text box so the user can enter input into it. Here is the JQuery that selects the first (and only) option in the list: $('select.src').val(''); But this sets the focus to the dropdown box. When I click on the dropdown box, the text box gets the focus, but the user has to click twice to get the focus on the textbox.
